

ALL HAYWOOD ESCAPES; GOES TO RUSSIA

CULLEN'S CHOSEN NEW HEAD OF FIRE AND POLICE BOARD

KENNEDY NAMED SECRETARY IN FIRST MEETING SINCE LAST JUNE.

TAKE FOUR STEPS Want Police Signal System Installed—Seek More Applicants for Policewoman.

John P. Cullen was elected president of the fire and police commission to succeed Harry O. Sullivan, resigned, at the organization meeting in the mayor's office, Wednesday evening—the first session of the commission since June 14, 1920. John E. Kennedy was elected secretary, succeeding Mr. Cullen.

Four important decisions were reached: First—To get the police signal system installed as soon as possible. Second—To call for formal applications for the office of city policeman.

Third—To hold written examinations May 2 for all seeking places on the police and fire departments. Fourth—To have the commission meet regularly in the future, probably on the first Friday of every month as formerly.

All officers present. All five members of the commission attended: J. P. Cullen, John E. Kennedy, John J. Kelly, Dr. Guy C. Kautle and George G. Sutherland. The others in attendance were Mayor T. E. Welsh, who called the meeting, Chief of Police Thomas Morrissey and Fire Chief Cornelius J. Murphy.

Decision to get early action on the installation of the signal system ordered in a year ago by the council, was reached after Mayor Welsh had declared his belief that the police inspector should be named to see that the men are patrolling their beats regularly. The signal system, it was agreed, is the only practical way of keeping a check on the policemen. The $5,000 appropriated last year for the work is available at any time the mayor reported. His suggestion of a night inspector was not acted upon.

Want Younger Woman. In an address to the commission on the appointment of a policeman, Mayor Welsh referred to the "senior" and "junior" members of the women's committee in going over the applications and the final submission of the name of only one recommended by the women, "senior" and "junior" members of the women's committee in going over the applications and the final submission of the name of only one recommended by the women.

It was decided to advertise for applicants for the job, each woman to make application in a formal way, the name and address of the applicant on the police force. Application blanks may be secured at the police station or city clerk's office. They are to be filled with Secretary Kennedy.

Chief Clerk Cooperation. A plea was made by Chief Morrissey that citizens cooperate with the police department by calling up the station on seeing suspicious characters.

At the time of the Brown store robbery last week, the suspicions of at least three people in that neighborhood were aroused about the robbery, which was explained by Chief Morrissey. "One man heard the glass break. He went out in back of his place and saw no windows had been broken there and then forgot the name of the man who had called the police station, that robbery could have been prevented."

Favorable Comment. Chief Morrissey and Mayor Welsh on the suggestion to try out a few "mushroom" traffic lights here. The matter was discussed by the council at its next meeting, May 2.

CITY TO WITNESS TOTAL ECLIPSE OF MOON LATE TONIGHT

Janesville will see a total eclipse of the moon beginning about 11 o'clock tonight. If the sky is clear, the phenomenon will last until about 4 o'clock Friday morning. It will be visible in North and South America, the West Indies and in Eastern Australia.

The moon will enter the penumbra or lesser shadow about 11 o'clock tonight and will be hidden behind shadows for 13 minutes after midnight. The total eclipse, which is the obscuration of light by entering the shadow of another body, will begin about 12:05 and end at 12:15. The moon will leave its shadow at 12:30 and leave the penumbra at 4:45. The moon will have then left its shadow and shine as brightly as ever.

The moon of course has no light of its own and the brilliant moonlight is solar light which the moon reflects to this earth. When the moon happens to be shut off from the sun, it is called a total eclipse; this occurs when the moon enters the shadow cast by the earth into space on the opposite side from the sun. Scientists explain the moon is on the opposite side of the earth from the sun and the phase is really that of full moon, in spite of the eclipse.

SIX STORES ROBBED IN MILTON VILLAGE

While Men Slept the Enemy Picked the Town Locks.

(Special to The Gazette.) Milton—Lack of a night watchman in this peaceful college town was costly to six merchants whose stores were entered after midnight Wednesday night. The second store to be robbed was the jewelry store of T. J. Place. About $60 worth of fountain pens left out on the counter and shown cases were taken. The jewelry was locked through a rear window, the lock being pried open.

Get Some Candy. The W. E. Rogers confectionery store was entered through a rear window, the catch being pried open. The thief or thieves helped themselves to few cigars, cookies and candy and took a few pennies from the till which had been left there by the proprietor. Entrance was made through a rear window. No footprints were found in the other stores. Rogers is the village clerk.

More Fountain Pens. Adding the Rogers building on the main street is the store occupied jointly by W. W. Clarke and H. C. Stewart. Clarke is the proprietor of a bookstore and Stewart is a dealer in fountain pens. Several pens were stolen from the showcases of Clarke and $5.00 in cash was rifled from the cash register of Stewart. A group of children were seen in the street near the store. Stewart kept the key in the door lock on the inside and the looters apparently used a skeleton key.

Used a Knife. In the basement of the postoffice building, George McLaughlin, who has the store is known to nearly the whole town. He uses a knife to pry the lock open on the door. This was apparently the means used by the thieves in entering his shop from which $10 in razors was taken.

The meat market of Crandall & Hull was the last place visited, entrance was through a rear window. The owners had neglected to remove $5 from the cash register. It is gone.

Some belief has been expressed by residents that the thieves were by local talent but others believe it is the work of a professional who is repeating what has happened in other small towns throughout Wisconsin during the past winter.

Heavy Rain Pelted Thief. It differs from the robberies at Milton Junction a week ago as these were claimed to have been perpetrated by ex-soldiers who wished to rid themselves of their uniforms. Robberies during the past winter.

The streets were deserted at 10 o'clock, people being driven to shelter by the heavy rain which continued way past midnight.

JESSE EARLE IS NEW PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

HAUMERSON RETIRES IN FAVOR OF CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT.

NEW COMMITTEES Board Votes to Get High School Bids in June—No Clerk Named.

With every member present, the first meeting of the Janesville board of education was held Wednesday afternoon at the high school. It is the first time in the city's history that nine members compose the board.

On the nomination of the retiring president, E. J. Haumerson, the board unanimously selected Jesse Earle, as president for the ensuing year. Earle has been a member for four years. Action on the appointment of clerk was deferred to a future meeting owing to the fact that S. C. Durbin will retire in June. Miss Lydia Zieman, engaged as assistant secretary, will continue.

Committee Appointed. Announcement was made Thursday by President Jesse Earle of the following standing committees: Teachers committee—Mrs. Helen Sutherland, Charles Muggleton and Otto Oestrich.

A new high school—Francis C. Grant, Charles Muggleton, George Croft. General building and grounds—William Komming, George Croft and Mrs. Alice Holmes.

It was decided to meet the second time on the first Monday of each month. Time Saving Scheme. F. C. Grant's proposal of new finance committee each month was adopted. It was pointed out that a half an hour had elapsed in each previous meeting while the finance committee was preparing the bills for passage. His plan is that the committee meet before the time of the meeting. President Earle appointed Mr. Hemming, Mrs. Sutherland and Mr. Oestrich as the committee for the meeting in June.

Prize for Teachers. A resolution was passed expressing appreciation and approval of the school exposition just held and thanking Miss Edith Sutherland, principal, for the money value of the prizes—lighting, heating, plumbing, etc.

It was voted to have architects present all plans for the new high school by June 1, as promised. Bids will be sought then, both for doing the entire job and for separate parts—lighting, heating, plumbing, etc.

Harding Wins On Colombian Treaty. Ratification of Pact Considered Test Victory for Administration.

(By Associated Press.) "Washington—Expressions of gratification were general Thursday in government circles over what is regarded as a significant test of senatorial support for administration foreign policies in that body's ratification of the long pending Colombian treaty. At the close of a final session of the senate, the treaty, which grew out of the partitioning of Panama and for the payment by the U. S. for $25,000,000 to the South American republic, was ratified with margin of 11 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority, 15 republicans and four democrats opposing ratification.

The vote was 69 to 10. The immigration restriction bill was before the senate Thursday with probability of reaching final vote before adjournment. Probably the next business to come before the senate, the Knox bill, was taken up by the foreign relations committee.

Gov. Blaine Again Presents Name of Webster to Senate. (By Associated Press.) Madison—The name of Benjamin O. Webster was presented to the senate for the third time Thursday by Gov. Blaine for confirmation as a member of the conservation commission. Twice before the upper house has refused to sanction the proposed appointment because of political affiliations. Since the last time the nominee was turned down, James Nevin, member of the commission in charge of fish culture for 28 years, has resigned. He left office in the hope of untangling the situation which had arisen over Webster.

Action on the name of Louis E. Gettle as a member of the railroad commission to succeed John Sallen will be taken by the senate May 4.

ALLIES TO BRING GERMANY TO TERMS

Proposal on Reparations Expected to Be Insufficient and Unacceptable.

(BULLETIN) Berlin.—The German government has formally asked the president of the United States to mediate in the reparations question.

The appeal pledges Germany to accept the mediation without out reservation and to fulfill absolutely any award President Harding may make after examination and investigation into subject.

GERMANY REFUSES TO TRANSFER GOLD. (By Associated Press.) Paris.—The German government has refused to tender the gold reserves of the Reichsbank, the German imperial bank, to the Coblenz and Cologne branches of the bank as demanded by the allies. The refusal was announced here.

French officers said they believed the Berlin government's terms would be "insufficient and unacceptable." Louis Loucheur, minister of liberation, has completed a plan for the economic penalties to be placed upon Germany in default of her payment of reparations.

The Echo de Paris declares that his plan is a tax of 10 gold marks on each ton of coal and a smaller tax on lignite and perhaps manufactured goods. A tax of 40 per cent payable in foreign currency would be allowed to manufacture certain products and deliver certain materials to the allies, the value of the products being credited to the reparations account.

Premiers Briand and Lloyd George plan strictly private conferences at the meeting at Hythe on Sunday. No one else is to be present except one delegate for each. It had been expected that Marshall Poeh, for France, and Field Marshall Wilson, for Great Britain, would attend the conference.

Premier Briand is expected to communicate to the British prime minister the measures France proposes in case Germany has not by May 1 taken the position on the reparations question.

The military and economic experts considering this subject met Thursday morning at the office of Interior minister Briand and agreed it was afterward stated, on the points of detail regarding the military and economic organization of the territory in the Ruhr region, the occupation of which is proposed in case of German recalcitrance.

WEEKS HAS ARMY READY FOR WAR, PERSHING AT HEAD

STAFF ORGANIZED TO RUN OPERATIONS IN TIME OF NEED.

TO BE PREPARED New Plan Does Not Interfere With Military Activities During Peace.

(By Associated Press.) Washington—Organization of a war staff headed by General Pershing to take charge of field operation of the armies of the United States in time of war was announced Thursday by Secretary of War Weeks.

"Instant preparation in time of peace for action in time of war," was given by the secretary as the reason for the new organization.

The organization headed by General Pershing will be entirely separate from the logistical staff of the army, Mr. Weeks said, which will continue to direct the activities of the military establishment in time of peace.

General Pershing will have a staff of his own which will correspond to that at Chaumont during the World War and which will concern itself entirely with problems of strategy, tactics and war organization.

Secretary Weeks would not confirm any rumors that Major General James G. Harbord, who was once General Pershing's chief of staff in France and later head of the logistical staff, would be relieved of his post as chief of staff. It was thought probable by some officers that General Harbord might become command Pershing's chief aid on the war staff.

U. W. Fights Bill to Raise Tuition Fees

(By Associated Press.) Madison—The U. W. bill, amended to increase the tuition of out of state students at the University of Wisconsin to $300 for the school year, and increase the tuition of resident students to $150, was introduced in the assembly state affairs committee Thursday for passage.

Chairman Matheson was the only member dissenting from the committee report, which would increase the out of state tuition to $500.

Strong opposition was expressed to the committee Wednesday by Pres. E. A. Birge of the university, who said that the legislature in passing such a measure would be making a radical departure from the tradition of its great educational institution.

He pointed out that a tuition of $500 would exclude the vast majority of the state students allowing only those of wealth to take advantage of the university. The committee during the passage showed itself to be in line with the tradition.

Only state students should be allowed to take advantage of the state university. The measure was designed to bring more money to the university by cutting down the number of students to lessen the present need for more and larger buildings.

The board declared that it was powerless to take action in the case at present and suggested that the legislature be asked to take action on the bill. The board was called upon to unravel.

Three Gunmen, Caught Here, Are Given Limit Sentence -- Fine of $100

Sought as the third of the trio of Rockford gunmen, Frank Schaefer was caught by Officer Charles Handy at the Northwestern depot shortly before 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the three were taken before Judge H. L. Macfield who assessed fines of $100 each and six months' imprisonment. Schaefer and Arthur Wendt are still in the county jail.

The five revolvers confiscated by the police are held in the municipal court vault.

"Revenue Officer" Caught. The fourth member of the gang, Howard Johnson, was caught at Johnson's Creek Wednesday afternoon, according to masses received by Chief Morrissey. He was also heavily armed. The trio caught here had referred to Johnson as the "revenue officer" they were to meet here "to go on their raids."

When caught by police here, Wednesday noon, Burton and Wendt were each armed with two revolvers. The fifth gun was found in Schaefer's car but Schaefer was not located until before his attempt to leave town. He was not armed, so a charge of driving a car while intoxicated and another charge of driving without a license were placed against him.

In giving a fine of $100 or six months, Judge Macfield gave the maximum sentence provided by this offense. Although police were thoroughly convinced they were three bad men, making plans for a series of robberies in Wisconsin cities, no charge could be placed by Dist. Atty. S. G. Dunneville more serious than carrying concealed loaded weapons. In addition to the revolvers, police confiscated about 200 rounds of ammunition in the Schaefer car.

Planned Robberies—Chief. The story about Johnson being a revenue officer was nothing but a bluff, Chief Morrissey said. Johnson was probably out "spotting" places in small towns which the rest of the gang would rob. One thing's sure, though—they'll steer clear of Janesville in the future.

Wendt and Burton both refused to talk when seen in the county jail Thursday before the latter paid his fine. It was apparent to police that they were a whole lot more than they tell.

Sailed April 1. Otto Christensen, attorney for Haywood, said he had been informed that "Big Bill" Haywood sailed from New York on Oscar II, about April 1 and landed at Riga, about April 15. He said he thought Haywood had gone to Russia on a personal mission and that he was not fleeing from the penitentiary sentence.

(By Associated Press.) Chicago.—Gov. George Thompson Thursday received confidential information that Wm. D. Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W., scheduled to begin a sentence at the Leavenworth, Kas., penitentiary this week, had fled from the United States and now is in either Moscow or Riga.

Charles P. Clyne, United States district attorney, announced that a search had been started for Haywood. "He is not at Leavenworth, Chicago, or New York and we have been privately informed that he has landed either at Moscow or Riga," said Mr. Clyne. "That is all we know about it, but we expect to have definite information very quickly."

POSTMASTERS TO BE MADE EFFICIENT

May Follow Advice of Hays to Put All Postmasters on Examination.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—President Harding has tackled the problem of postmaster efficiency throughout the country, their removal and appointment on a basis that would make for efficiency instead of political manipulation and inefficiency.

Postmaster General Will Hays has talked at length with the president about the executive order issued by President Wilson in 1913 when postmasters were placed under civil service rules. There has been much misunderstanding about the republicans' desire to revoke that order. It has been called a return to the "spoils" system. Mr. Harding is unwilling to have that meaning attached to the plan of the administration in respect to postmasters. He does mean to see to it that all postmasters shall be appointed on a merit system. Although no definite announcement can be made as yet, it looks as if the examination policy would be somewhat as follows:

First—Revocation of the Wilson executive order whereby only one man was eligible for appointment out of a group of applicants who had passed an examination.

Second—Substitution of an executive order putting all postmasters under civil service rules and requiring examination but permitting appointment from any one of the top three on the eligible list.

Third—Recommendation to congress that legislation be enacted making the system permanent, so that every time a new president is elected the postoffice system shall not be subjected to the whims of executive orders but that the responsibility for change shall lie with congress as a whole.

All to Pass Exam. In support of the Harding plan, the argument is made that many of the postmasters appointed under the Wilson administration were placed in the civil service classification without examination and that it isn't fair to permit the democrats to remain in office without taking their chances in an open examination. It is insisted that both republicans and democrats who passed their examinations under the Wilson executive order will not be disturbed. The new arrangement would apply only to postmasters who hold their jobs by political appointment and who never were obliged to pass any examination.

Of course there are objections to the examination system on the ground that a school teacher could answer the questions asked on an examination paper more readily than most applicants with executive ability and little book lore. But Postmaster General Hays insists that the examinations will favor executive talents. And indeed the selection will be based on organizing ability rather than mere book knowledge.

Hays Likes Merit System. The postmaster general is heartily in favor of the merit system because he thinks it is the only way to put the postoffice department on an efficient basis. He is full of enthusiasm about the future and realizes the responsibility of his task. He therefore is urging President Harding to make it possible for postmasters to be selected on an efficiency basis so that an improvement in the entire mail service may result.

It is probable that Mr. Harding will accept the advice of Will Hays and put all the postmasters under civil service rules and require examinations of all incumbent postmasters who got their jobs through politics.

To Humanize Department. The new postmaster general also has the support of Mr. Harding in his plan to humanize the postoffice department. There are many places throughout the country where the conditions under which clerks are working are such that they are almost humanely declared the government should keep pace with progressive employers who are spending large sums of money for social welfare. He has called the attention of the heads of the employer organizations and will begin a careful study of the whole subject. All the energy and industry which Will Hays exhibited as chairman of the republican national campaign seems to have been transused into the postoffice department. He is alive with new plans and new schemes for efficiency. It will not be his fault if the country before long doesn't find an improvement in the mail service.

NEW SYSTEM OF TRAFFIC LIGHTS IS FAVORED HERE

"Mushroom" traffic lights for the downtown district of Janesville are endorsed by Aldermen E. F. Kelly and E. H. Ransom, who declare they should be given a trial here. They have adopted the system now in use in Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities would be a saving of money in the end for Janesville. Fests now in use and the red lanterns used nights are damaged and ruined so often that the costs mount up high.

"The 'mushroom' light is a wonderful thing," said Alderman Kelly, "and paid particular attention to the light when in Port Madison Monday evening. It is the best traffic regulator I have seen." The council may take up at its next meeting, May 2, Chief Morrissey's proposal to try out one of the lights here. The "mushroom" light is like a large bulb of fire at night and appears a brilliant yellow in daylight. It is only eight inches high, allowing a clearance for street cars and autos, thus preventing possible damage and accidents. It can be run over by the heaviest truck and remain undamaged.

WANT CARS TO RUN ON FRANKLIN ST.

Move Started to Get Interurbans to Make East and West Side Circuit.

Alderman Lawrence J. Cronin, seventh ward, is vitally interested in a proposal to get the Rockford & Interurban company to run its cars on South Franklin street and across the Jackson street bridge, as was worked out when the line was built. The cars took this route until about eight years ago when a dozen or more property owners on Franklin street started suit against the company for damages caused to their property by the heavy cars. It was alleged that plaster was shaken off the ceilings in a number of homes; dishes were broken and other damage was caused.

Present Route Chosen. So far as is known, no judgments were ever awarded in the cases, and the company, rather than put up with the complaint of the Franklin street people, abandoned the use of the "loop" and chose the route to the city now being used—Eastern avenue, Belmont avenue, and South Main street.

Franklin street people are now reported to be anxious to get the cars to run on the old route, all but one or two of them being willing to see the interurban company use that street, with the agreement not to start suits for damages.

Would Make Circuit. With the old "loop" north of West Milwaukee street, now abandoned by the interurban company it is proposed that the interurban cars come into the city on Franklin street and go out on the South Main street route, thus making a complete circuit and taking in both lines. Alderman Cronin is determined to have the interurban officials take early action on the proposal, and he is going other aldermen and citizens to favor the move in the hope of bringing about the change.

LUCKY FARM HAND! DREAMS OF FORTUNE THEN FLOWS IT UP

(By Associated Press.)

Salem, Va.—Henry Dameron, 25, who works on his uncle's farm near here at $10 a month often dreamed, he said, of finding a treasure and buying a farm of his own.

April 5, while plowing near the foot of Brush mountain, his plow uncovered a peculiar looking object. Investigation revealed it to be a small metal pot wrapped in buckskin containing gold and silver coins valued at $14,000. The latest date on any of the coins was 1822.

Dameron, fearful his fortune might be taken from him, kept his discovery a secret until now.

"JACK" CUDAHY ENDS OWN LIFE

Son of Milwaukee Packer Is Worried Over Money Troubles.

Los Angeles—John P. (Jack) Cudahy, son of Michael Cudahy, one of the Cudahy packers, committed suicide at his home at Hollywood, Wednesday, shooting himself through the chest. Mrs. Cudahy said there had been no differences between the couple and that Mr. Cudahy had seemed in his usual good spirits an hour before the act, the last she had seen of him.

Later it developed that he had failed in securing a loan and that financial difficulties had worried him.

Had Sentential Past. Eleven years ago the Cudahy family was the center of a series of the most sensational happenings newspapers had printed for many years. Mrs. Cudahy was the daughter of George C. Cowin, Omaha. In the early morning of March 6, 1910, she had telephoned the police of Kansas City where Jack Cudahy was the general manager of the Cudahy packing plant. When the police arrived at the Cudahy home, Jere Lillis, president of a Kansas City bank, was found mutilated and bound with cords on the floor of the parlor.

Cudahy Not Prosecuted. Mrs. Cudahy made the statement that her husband and his chauffeur had attacked Lillis and with a butcher knife had cut the man's throat. Cudahy was arrested but soon released and never prosecuted. He claimed that Lillis had ruined his home and that he had found him with Mrs. Cudahy when he arrived. Lillis afterward resigned from the bank and went into retirement.

Later Mrs. Edna Cudahy was granted a divorce and the custody of the son was given to the grandfather, Michael Cudahy. There was a

HOME RULE FOR CITIES ARGUED IN HOUSE

Madison—Home rule for cities was argued before the assembly committee on municipalities Wednesday when it considered the resolution by Senator Louis A. Arnold offering a constitutional amendment for ratification. This resolution which provides that any city, however organized, may have freedom of action within the limits of the constitution, passed the preceding session of the legislature, and the senate of the present session. Ratification by the house would cause submission of the amendment to the people for final confirmation. Opposition to the resolution contends that it would have a tendency to "throw the larger cities wide open" and that the legislature would be a sort of safety valve to conserve the interests of the people of the state at large.

Printing Board One of First to Be Eliminated. Madison—The printing board and the revisor of statutes will be among the first departments to meet the question of elimination, according to expression of members of the joint legislative committee appointed to investigate boards and commissions with a view toward consolidation and elimination. JAIL DELIVERY PLOT FRUSTRATED

Attempt to Secure Tools to Set Milwaukee Four Free Fails.

Elkhorn—Police and county sheriff are on the lookout for unknown parties who it is believed attempted to effect a jail delivery here Tuesday night but did not succeed as they were frightened away. An attempt was made to break into Arp's blacksmith shop and Magill's plumbing establishment, apparently after tools with which to break into the county jail where the quartet of Milwaukee "jags" are awaiting trial.

The four, Ed Burns, Ralph Jewett, L. Leclair and George Weeks, made a daring attempt a week ago Wednesday to loot two stores and make their getaway when they were surprised by an armed posse, two of the quartet being captured with the goods and the other two caught at the jail.

Milwaukee and Burlington, Wis. The four waived preliminary examination and have indicated that they would plead guilty when brought for trial. Following the attempt to break into the two shops police are redoubling their efforts to prevent the escape of the robbers.

At Shrine Celebration. George O. Kellogg and Henry Barnes attended the Shrine ceremonial at Rockford Wednesday evening as Elkhorn delegates. A large number of delegates also went from Delavan.

Judge Aknew Holds Court. For the first time since his illness of two months ago Judge D. W. Aknew, Waukesha, will hold court at Elkhorn April 28. He will try some cases which will come up in county court.

ROAD MEN AWAIT RATE REDUCTIONS

But in Freight Costs Would Mean Big Saving for Rock
County.

Wisconsin road builders and county highway authorities are watching with interest the results to be obtained by State Highway Engineer R. H. Hirst for lower railroad rates in all road building material, sand, gravel, crushed stone and cement. The state engineer has carried the issue before the state railroad commission in supporting the application of the Wisconsin Mineral Aggregate association for reduced rates. The Janesville Sand and Gravel company is interested in the commission. A reduction is demanded amounting to from 18 to 35 per cent in all highway materials.

Work Held Up.
The freight rates on gravel and crushed stone are now so high the commission was told that shipment by rail is practically impossible. Millions of dollars in road and building construction work is being held up, according to Engineer Hirst, until lower rates are realized, thereby materially reducing costs. The Burlington, Ill. to Janesville is 50 cents, which adds about one-fifth to the cost of the concrete needed for the extension of the Edgerton highway.

County authorities are waiting development on the resignation of A. R. Hirst, declared to be the greatest state highway engineer in the United States. His resignation, which offered more than a month ago, was refused. It is understood that the legislature will grant the demand of the engineer and appropriate funds to give him the organization as desired to carry on the road work for Wisconsin.

Reduction in freight rates would save Rock county enormous amount on the financial program this year, although the county ward at its last meeting took action curtailing road building because of excessive costs.

AUTOMOBILES MAY SOLVE TAX QUESTION

Madison.—Automobiles are coming to be looked on by the legislature as a solution of the tax question which for a time appeared to have developed into the biggest problem of the session. By taxing motor vehicles 2 per cent on their valuation, as is proposed in a joint finance committee bill, due to be introduced this week, approximately $4,000,000 will be raised.

Under provisions of the bill, each owner of a car would place his own estimate of its valuation at the same time he applied for the license. The insurance estimate, and the desire of the owner to have his estimate up to a point where it would be favorable to him in selling his machine, would keep him from undervaluing his car, it is held.

BIG RUSH FOR NEW DICTIONARY EXPECTED

Busy Workers Hold Coupons For Presentation on Half-Holiday.

Extraordinary efforts have been made for a rush to get copies of The New University Dictionary. The book ordered by this paper to its readers exclusively. Many were distributed during the week.

"When we set our thoughts down in written form," says Professor Forrest M. Lunt, M. A., Instructor of English in Horace Mann School, Teachers' College, Columbia University, "we are without the aid of voice and manner to make clear what we are trying to say. Our thoughts must be understood because the relations which exist between the various parts of our sentences are clear. If the relations between the parts of our sentences are not clear, the thoughts we are trying to express will not be understood. This is Professor Lunt's introduction to his article on "Practical Syntax," which shows readers of this new dictionary how to build sentences.

"Good usage, common practice, society—whatever you will—has decided what is good form, what is proper, in this field of syntax. Just as it has in morals, etiquette or fashions," continues Professor Lunt; "therefore, the man or woman who has occasion to set his thoughts down in writing should observe the common practice, the universally understood rules, which govern the relationship of words. If he fails to do this, or if he attempts to make his own rules, he will be considered without the pale of cultured education. From this it will be seen that the ability to construct sentences properly is hardly less important than the power to speak."

The Boy Problem.
Many boys are troublesome because they are not allowed to "do things" as real boys want to do them.

The father of a wide-awake boy said the other day that the lad was indeed a different boy since they gave him a chance to earn his own money.

And they are teaching him to spend sensibly and to save some of his money.

The other day this boy earned 15 cents. His father said: "What are you going to do with it?" The lad, holding a dime in one hand said: "This for my bank account—the nickel for candy."

That boy has his eyes on the future, and his friends are delighted to see the manly qualities he has developed lately.

Think it over.

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam

DUNCAN'S DREAMS

Ruth was not to be blamed if, for the next few days, she went about half in a dream. Ruth had her father's quality of being able to live in a land of her own imaginings—but with this important difference, that Ruth knew it was a dream, and Duncan did not always draw a distinction between the real and the unreal. Tim loved her—and it wasn't a dream. But it was a thing to dream about. Tim had told her close in his arms when he said it, he had kissed her—she could feel his hot lips against her face. She blushed then, and a new shyness crept over her. She thought of this, and then of the new little houses on Carlyle Street—he wanted to live with her in one of those.

Tim loved her, typically "bride and groom" houses. Little knew a woman who lived in one. They ran to flowered wall paper and much "wedding" decoration in the "wedding" of white plaster trimmings on the ceilings, and to fancy oak-stained woodwork. Marked down thought them quite handsome and the covetous who to them desired in their "fancies" and the modern conveniences.

Ruth tried to picture herself as mistress of one of these houses. But somehow, in spite of her wild imagination, she could not do so. When she tried, it was to fit her mother's gigantic walnut sideboard into the tiny bow-windowed dining room, or the enormous sofa and chairs of the library into the wee "front room" of the little house. And the two would not mix, even in her mind.

Tim made her to furnish one of the houses, then, with—well, things from the "front room" of the "front room". Certainly the shiny oak "front room" suitcases in the window, the chairs, the brocade green velvet covers, the large patterned "lace" curtains.

Ruth saw it. She decided there would be time enough to think about that when she had her father and mother safely off on their visit. She went into her father's room to keep him company, while he mended some freshly laundered shirts.

"Mrs. Weed was over this afternoon," she said. "She wants me to come and live with them while you are away." She said it in a low, sweet voice. "I refused," she said. "I do not do it under obligation." Mr. O'Neil answered, his book lying face down in his lap as he watched her work. "But Mrs. Weed is very nice to you, and perhaps—"

"No," Ruth answered. "I'd rather stay here. Mrs. Belding will stay with me, and she'll pay half the cost of the table, because I'll get the new china set. Tim's mother offered to take me, too—everyone has been lovely—but I'd rather be here. I've a lot of fine plans—which I won't tell until I see how I can work them out."

"I'll worry about you—after all, my dear, we are running away and leaving you here with no money, nothing but a big house."

"I've the income we three have lived on," Ruth said simply. "We managed on that—and I'm only one. There's some coal in the cellar, and that oil investment of mine had gone right, we would have had an income of several thousands a year."

"I wanted to take you abroad, to have you educated in France and in Switzerland, for a few years, so you could grow up knowing the language there. I wanted to bring you back to college here."

Ruth fastened a button securely and folded and laid aside the shirt. She picked up another—noting with dismay that in the last wash the part at the collar had given way. "That means a patch and a patch there in front means obvious poverty. I should like to send you to a New England college for two years, then to a Western college for a year, and Duncan went on getting closer and closer into his dream, and unconsciously changing the form of his sentences. "Then at the end of that time, take you abroad again—not that our colleges aren't the best in the world, but simply because it's a good thing to get the point of view of different localities. You could study at the Sorbonne in Paris—that's a city to live in, my dear."

"Yes, do you remember a Little Tour in France?" Ruth answered. "Unfortunately, she decided to herself, this was a white shirt and there was some material to waste. She would just stitch on a whole new bosom—it would be as good as a new shirt."

"We must go abroad," Ruth's father went on. "I will be able to get some tutoring, then we'll sell this house and the three of us will go. I can work there—southern France would make a new man of me."

Ruth gave a little, tired sigh. It was nice to hear her father talk—the new bosom would take the rest of the afternoon to cut and to put on.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Escalloped Potatoes and Cheese—Six medium sized potatoes peeled and sliced, one-quarter pound cheese (rather strong) grated, two level tablespoons flour, very small onion, two cups milk, pepper and salt. Arrange potato and cheese in casserole in layers with the cheese finishing the top, make a white sauce with the milk, butter, flour and onion, with pepper and salt. Pour over the potato and cheese and bake till done.

Dandelion Salad—Take just the very tender leaves and buds, wash well and drain. With sharp scissors cut it up fine, place in granite pan or crock. Fry two slices bacon, cut in dice, add one-half cup vinegar, two tablespoons sugar, pepper and salt, heat through and pour over the dandelions; stir up good. Put on salad plates and garnish with chopped hard-boiled eggs.

Rhubarb Brown Betty—Three cups bread crumbs, two cups rhubarb, one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one egg—three-quarters cup milk. Toast the bread till dry and crush it, not too fine. Cut the rhubarb quite fine and mix sugar, crumbs and rhubarb together. Warm the egg well with milk and moisten the other ingredients with it. Cover the dish with a plate and bake one-

HOUSECLEANING HELPS

To Make Windows Clear and Shiny—When washing windows have a clear, sudsy water, but don't have it too sudsy, as this will make the window streaked. Wash them with a soft cloth and dry them. Then take a newspaper and crumple it up and go over the window with this. It removes the lint which is on the window from the cloth. This leaves a clear, shiny surface on the window.
To Launder Window Curtains—Wash in warm water and soap flakes, between the hands. Rinse out all soap water real good, put on line half dry, roll up in big bath towels for a while, then iron; no starch. Ironing damp makes them like new.
Care of the Kitchen Range—After broiling or frying, if any fat has splattered on the range wipe the surface at once with newspaper.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

Ants—A good way to get rid of any kind of ants is to sprinkle ground sage or to leave around all cracks and corners. This is a sure cure.

Saving Labor—If every pot, pan, kettle, etc., used in cooking is washed as promptly and while still hot the house will make a 50 per cent saving in time and labor.

Heating Lemons—A lemon will yield nearly twice the quantity of juice if heated thoroughly before squeezing.

Using Sour Cream—Sour Cream makes an excellent shortening for cookies and cakes, and it can also be made into salad dressings or gravies for meat.

Dishes on Ice—To prevent dishes, such as a bowl of cream or gelatin, from slipping on the ice when placed in a refrigerator, so cover each one with a piece of wax paper or rubbers on the ice first, then place receptacle upon rubbers.

Ironing—When a garment is too dry to iron well, sprinkle the ironing to do the work satisfactorily.

Cellar—When cleaning the cellar scrub closets and shelves with clear lime water. It destroys mold and sweetens them.

Carrots can be seen very plainly when used in a salad for a gelatin mixture.

If vegetables have to stand after paring, cover completely with cold water to prevent wilting and discoloration.

Rubbing wash goods with egg yolk before washing will take out spots.

Sweet oil for varnished furniture and kerosene for oiled furniture will remove finger prints.

A potato ricer is just the thing for wringing out compressed from water too hot to bear the hand.

DISCOVERIES
Cream that is too thin to whip properly will whip much better if the white of an egg is added. A large quantity of cream is used up by whites of two eggs. This will add both to the quality and quantity of the cream.

Adding a little lemon juice to water when making will make past light.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR JOE:

The baby gets an egg every other day now and you wouldn't believe how much gusto he attaches to eating them. He just loves them and in fact his enthusiasm is so great that he generally gets most of the egg around his mouth instead of in it. It makes me think maybe he'll never make a good soldier if his early manhood is any symbol. Anyway, after this I think I'll always give him his egg just before he has his bath.

I think you're right in advising me not to worry about the continuous absence of my teeth. Come to think of it, I too was a very postponed teether as a baby and now my teeth are so strong they hardly ever lose a filling.

I see by the papers that the names of all the slackers and army deserters are going to be published. Now Joe that's what I call undeserved fame. Think of all the millions of boys who really did their duty and went over there and were obedient to their officers in the midst of cooties and everything without there being any talk now of putting their names in the papers, and yet here's these slackers and people who really did everything they could, versus the war and still the government is going to publish their names and give them all that free fame. Can you imagine that Joe?

And it seems the Bolsheviks are still up to their old tricks and refuse to be overthrown. They must be an obstinate lot of people Joe, because all they have to do is study history to learn that everybody gets badly overthrown sooner or later, so the way I look at it they might as well give in gracefully while all these efforts are being made in the matter, and Mrs. Pink agrees with me.

Love from self and child.

TESSIE.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have gone with a young man for two years. For six months I went with him. I thought he loved me and I am sure I still love him.

For the past year I have been talked about and I am sure I am as good as any one. This boy believed what other people said about me and now he doesn't go with me or have anything to do with me, but he goes with girls with a worse reputation than I have.

I have reason to believe he loved me. I try to forget him, but the more I try the harder it is for me to forget. I met a young man a short time ago who seemed to be a nice young man. He was good-looking and had plenty of money. He wants me to marry him. I like him as well as any one except the young man I love. Should I marry this young man or wait for the one I love?

How can I win him back? I stay home and act right to try to build up my reputation, but people just talk the same. I have never done anything disgraceful. What should I do? If the young man had loved me would he have quit going with me?

DISCOURAGED BLUE EYES.
The fact that the young man heard things about your reputation was not the reason he dropped you. Unless he was an absolute cad he would have judged your character.

by his friendship with you. It may be that he grew indifferent and was glad of an excuse to drop you and go with other girls.

Do what you know to be right and do not worry about gossip. If your reputation were as terrible as you seem to think it is, the other young man would not want to marry you. Perhaps you are over sensitive because of what the first young man told you.

I would not advise you to marry without love. Neither would I advise you to wait for the young man who was so disloyal that he took another person's word for your character. Forget about the young man you think you love. It is foolish to live in the past and let joys of the present pass by unnoticed.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a friend whom I value as I value a brother. Like everybody he has his faults, but I think they are worse than some people's. He is just 13 years old and he smokes and says he drinks. I am sure he smokes, but

I don't know about his drinking. As I know it isn't right of him to do those things, I would like to know how to stop him. Do you think that is his way of teasing me?

UNCERTAIN.
The boy thinks it is smart to be tough. To tell him that the results will be harmful to his brain and stunting to his growth will not help him in the least. Perhaps you could make him stop by asking him to stop because you do not want him to smoke and drink. If he refuses to respect your wishes, you had better look for friends of your own kind.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is there anything to a person having one brown eye and one blue eye?

THANKS.
I don't understand your question. To have one brown eye and one blue eye does not imply that the person having them is queer. The combination is unusual, but interesting, and in many cases attractive.

Local Ball Season Opens With Cream City Club Friday

GROUNDS READY; GAME CALLED AT 3 O'CLOCK SHARP

His Royal Highness, Swat, King of Baseball, ascends the throne in Janesville Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. With a wave of his scepter and the shout of "Play Ball," he will open the 1921 season here against the Milwaukee Lake Shore club.

That is of course unless the enemy, Juke Pluvius, breaks in on the arrangements. Wednesday night's rain was welcomed by the local club as it was a big day for the remaining snow was opened the grounds to the attack of the first sun. Strong sunbeams Thursday afternoon and Friday will put the grounds in great shape.

Expect Big Crowd
Although the stores and factories of the city find that it will not be advisable for them to lock their doors Friday and declare a half holiday, a big crowd is expected to attend the inauguration of the season. Many local fans will break away from their work to hike up to the game and start the season at a whole while the attendance from the surrounding towns is expected to be large.

Harvey Stock will twist Friday's game for the victor. Manager Pershing has not yet decided on his first offering, but it will probably be either Lathrop or Smithson. Earl Kalsier will pitch on Saturday. On Sunday Jimmy Dodge, the no-hit, no-run artist of last year's Fort Atkinson team in the Central State League will be on the slab for the visitors.

Ex-Big Timers
Composed of ex-big leaguers, the Milwaukee club will give the Tractors a run. They include assistants, Artie Evans, Lily Harcan, Harry Morgan and Goodman.

The Tractors will line up as follows:

With "Janesville" fans their hearts fixed on "Sunset Tractors," the locals will march onto the field 25 per cent stronger than a year ago. Friday is the day that fandom here has been waiting for long time for. Having heard much of the abilities of the new men, they will get their first chance to see them in real action.

Minor changes have been made at the grounds, especially with regard to the ticket booths. Instead of having them at the main entrance, they will be further inside the park to facilitate handling the crowds. 25 SCHOOLS IN BELOIT COLLEGE TRACK EVENTS

Twenty-five high school track teams, forty publications and twenty speakers have elected their intention to enter the triple contest to be staged at the Fourteenth Annual High School Day scheduled for May 8 and 9 at Beloit College.

The track meet is open to all high schools who are members of Wisconsin and Illinois Interscholastic Associations. Competitors will be divided into two classes, class A comprising schools with enrollments of 400 or more and class B schools of less than 400.

Trophies to Winners
Trophies will be presented to the winning school in each class, and to the winner of each relay, as well as individual medals for the first three places in each event.

High school newspapers and magazines from five states have entered the second annual interstate journalism contest. Papers and magazines are in separate classes. Silver cups will be awarded to first and second places in each division.

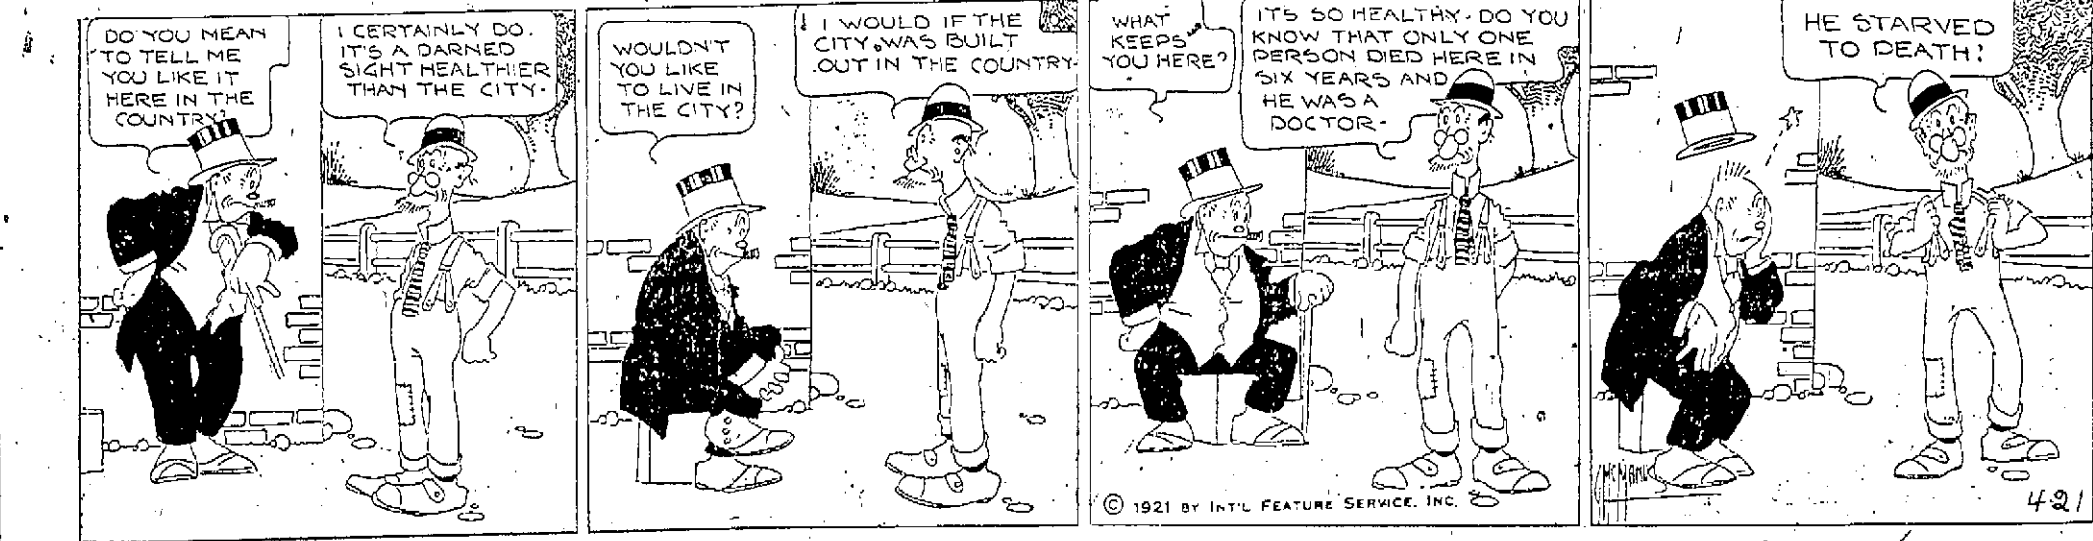

Men will compete in the oratorical and women in the declamatory meet, for first, second and third prizes. Speeches are not required to be original.

Four hundred high school guests are expected. The attendance last year was over 300. The week end program includes a play, "Spreading the News," a speech on journalism by a Rockford editor; a picnic supper on the campus; exhibitions of high school, college and professional journals; and an all-college dance. The college extends an invitation to all high school students to visit Beloit on this occasion.

ALL-STAR BALL TEAM TO PRACTICE SUNDAY

First outdoor baseball practice of the All-Stars will be held at Fourth Ward park Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The local boys expect to play their first game the following week with a Madison club.

EXTEND TIME OF PIN TOURNAMENT; START ON MONDAY

Extension of time for making entries to the city bowling tournament to be held at the West Side and the East Side alleys has been made by the committee in charge. The limit period will be held open for several days in order to permit all bowlers a chance to fall in line on schedule. The meet will commence Monday night of next week. Teams and individuals who have been holding out because of the city league situation, are informed by the committee in charge that the tourney is in no way connected with that league and that prizes will be distributed immediately at the close of the meet.

Entries may be made with A. L. Huebel, 105 West Milwaukee street; E. C. Baumann, 18 N. Main street; or A. J. Nelson, who compose the committee. Nelson reports that the tournament will be run on schedule and urges local Pin Knights to boost the game.

Beloit Fan Boosts Tractors

When a man in a neighboring city sends a subscription to the Janesville baseball club, he must be some sportsman. When that man happens to live in Beloit, he's a super-sportsman. Ed Winslow, 211 Republic avenue, Beloit, has sent in $5 to help along the Tractor City outfit.

BASEBALL TO OBSERVE SOLDIERS' HOSPITAL DAY

Chicago.—San Johnson, president of the American League, today sent a letter to all club presidents asking them to do their part in observing National hospital day, May 12. The purpose of this event is to better inform the public of the real scope of hospital service with the thought of better equipment and united effort for the care of men who made such great sacrifices on the battlefields of Europe," the letter said. "It has been suggested that the four western parks be appropriately decorated, that the flag be raised before each game and that all soldiers and sailors from the national hospitals be accorded free admittance. I would urge that you lend your best efforts to commemorate the day."

George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, prominent English golfers, have been booked for an exhibition of golf at Cincinnati September 12. Duncan is the British open champion and Mitchell is known as the longest driver in the world. The Cincinnati golf club will stage the central states tournament during the week of June 27.

Edouard Horemans, European billiard champion, led George Sutton 800 to 285 at the end of the second round of their 15.2 ball game match at Chicago Wednesday night.

2 for Bambino; Cubs Drop, 6-5; Cantillon Wins

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Mark up two for Babe Ruth. He made a homer in the seventh scoring Peckinpaugh ahead of him to break a tie. New York won from Boston 6 to 4. Incidentally, the King of Swat was arrested for speeding at 27 miles an hour.

When the Detroit Tigers knocked Mails out of the box Wednesday, winning 9 to 6 from Cleveland, the Indians' southpaw suffered his first defeat since coming to the American League late last season. He had six victories and no defeats until Wednesday.

Hasley, Harris and Rommel were hit hard by the Senators who overcame a four run lead and defeated the Athletics, 6 to 4.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Alex Freeman loosened up in the sixth inning, the Pirates making four runs, and the Chicago Cubs lost out 6 to 6.

Executive up to the eighth, Neft was then bumped for four hits in a row and had 16 runs won by New York from Boston, 9 to 5.

Er. Konechsky's single two on in the ninth gave Brooklyn a win over Philadelphia, 4 to 2. Meusel made his third home run in three days.

Sir Rixey turned in his first victory for Cincinnati over St. Louis 5 to 4. The winning run was scored in the ninth.

Joe Cantillon, one of Janesville's pride, sped his Millers over the Brewers and came out of the mud with a 5 to 2 win.

It led the Indians for the Mudhens of Toledo to defeat Indianapolis, 7 to 5. Both teams scored in the eleventh. Toledo three runs, the Indians one.

Willie throws by Betzel and Dalinger caused the downfall of Louisville before Columbus, 6 to 4.

Ten runs scored in the fourth were too much for the Saints and the Blues had already amassed eight counters.

BASEBALL TIPS

Artie Homan, outfielder of Chicago Cubs from 1905 to 1912 returned to baseball with acceptance of an offer to coach a Chicago high school team.

Preparations were made for a record breaking crowd at the first home game Thursday of the Chicago White Sox with Detroit as opener.

Bad weather has cut in half the scheduled appearances of the Sox and only one game of four had been won.

Bill Marmon, outfielder of the Cubs expects to join the club the first of May when the team starts on its eastern trip. He has been at Toplin, Mo., several days recuperating from an operation for appendicitis.

The National League season will open at Pittsburgh Thursday. The Pirates will oppose Cincinnati in the first game.

President Hoveyler announced at Cincinnati Wednesday night the National League will present to the widow of Umpire Pete Harrison who died last winter, a full year's salary of her husband.

The Toledo season of the American Association opens Thursday with prospects of one of the largest crowds ever attending a Minor League.

Elliot's Homer Aids U. W. Win

Madison.—Wisconsin university's baseball team lead by Rowdy Elliot, won off the chalk marks on the Camp Randall diamond Wednesday afternoon, defeating Milwaukee Normal by a score of 13 to 0 and scoring eleven runs in the first three innings.

The victory of the Jadge machine gives a percentage of 1,000 for five preliminary games.

Rowdy Elliot, captain of the varsity, slugged a home run, pulled an unassisted double play, and scored in one of the four other plays which featured the quartering.

All-Stars Elect Hager and Bick to Lead Team

Clarence (Tod) Hager was elected captain and Charles Bick, manager, of the Janesville All-Stars basketball team at a banquet closing the season Wednesday night. A. E. Parkmann, athletic director of the Y. M. C. A., acting as toastmaster, praised the young athletes for the spirit of sportsmanship they have demonstrated and the high qualities of character being exhibited. Gifts were made by the team members and by Frank Sinclair, sporting editor of the Gazette. The relation of the newspaper to athletics was the latter's subject.

Tractors Buy Rain Insurance

Rain insurance is now all the rage in semi-pro baseball circles. The Tractors of Janesville have fallen in line. The games of Friday and Sunday of this week have been covered against possible loss through the antics of Old Juke.

The company that writes this kind of policy has worked the proposition down to science. Rates are based upon the locality according to the average of rainfall. A steward of measurement is followed for protection to the company.

To avoid fraud by teams that might call off a game because of small attendance and collect insurance to fill their coffers, application must be made eight days in advance. Payment depends upon the fall of an inch of water within a certain period.

The Tractors insure the time between 10 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon. A rain gauge at the grounds decides the question of veracity.

Twelve Riders will compete in the 20, 30 and 40 mile motorcycle races at the Los Angeles speedway Sunday.

Yale and Princeton will take virtually all of their track men to the University of Pennsylvania relay meet on May 7.

BOXING NOTES

Cleveland.—Jack Wolfe, Cleveland and Danny Kramer, Santamweights, will meet here Thursday night in 12-rounds to a decision.

Minneapolis.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul and Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis will meet in the headline of the fighting card here Thursday night. Wednesday afternoon Wiggins weighed 163 pounds while Gibbons tipped the scales at 159.

This will mark Gibbons' first fight since he lost to Mike O'Dowd in November, 1913.

Jap Baseball Tour of States

Chicago.—Waseda University of Japan has arranged the greatest tour of American colleges this spring that a Japanese nine has ever taken. It is announced by University of Chicago athletic authorities. The Nippon team will play clear across the country to the Atlantic, meeting Yale and Harvard.

The visitors will be in charge of the "father of baseball in Japan," Prof. Ito Aba, dean of the college and professor of political economy at the Tokyo University.

An incident of the arrangements is that middle western games were scheduled by Waseda's first baseball coach, Prof. Fred Merrifield of the University of Chicago, this year coaching the Chicago team. Years ago when Prof. Merrifield was teaching in Waseda, he introduced many of the finer points of the game to the Japanese college world, and last year piloted a Maroon team back to Japan.

Just now with the Japanese squad is getting into shape in the Hawaiian Islands. It sailed from Yokohama on March 18, planned to spend a month playing ball around Honolulu, and to arrive in San Francisco on April 22.

Postponing its Pacific Coast games until the close of its tour, so as to catch the middle western and eastern college teams before college closes, the invaders will push on quickly to Chicago. They are due here on May 7.

Carp to Cross Pond in May

New York.—George Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, who is to box Jack Dempsey for the world's title July 2, will sail for New York May 7. This information was received Monday by promoter Tex Rickard in a cable message from Carpentier's manager Doc Camps.

Des Camps said Carpentier and his party of trainers and sparring partners would sail on the Savoie, and that the French pugilist already was in good physical condition. Six weeks of training will send him into the ring in perfect shape for the most important contest of his career, according to his manager.

FACULTY TEAM BEATS VOCATIONAL

The "profs" of the high school seem to have an unusual faculty to hit the ball. In a round robin Wednesday afternoon at the Fourth ward park, they socked out eight hits off the vocational school ball team and added by errors won, 14 to 2.

The grade school boys managed to get only a single hit, but stretched that into a run. The game ran only five innings.

Corey and Wolf formed the battery for the faculty. Alvin Blum, Arthur Largent and Leo Denning for the vocational school.

SPORTING BRIEFS

Sixty men have reported for the spring football practice at the University of Michigan. They include a number of promising recruits. Several of the veterans will be out of the practice for a few weeks, owing to other athletic activities.

Prospect that the Naval academy crew will row in the Poughkeepsie regatta, has increased interest in the sport at Annapolis to a high degree. The crew is rapidly rounding into top form. The new crews are looking forward to the first test, which will be the races against Pennsylvania here on April 30.
